

When it is break
time

After some lessons, it is break time.

I can put my things away and go out with my class.

Break time is for resting and playing.

There are lots of children in the playground, and sometimes lots of noise.

I can play, walk around or stay somewhere quieter.

All of those choices are OK.

Sometimes I want to play with other children.

I can ask: “Can I play?”.

Sometimes they say yes and sometimes no. If they say no, I can play something else.

Sometimes something worries me
in the playground.

I can tell the adult who is looking after the playground.

That person is there to help.

When the bell rings, break time
ends.

I can go to the line with my class.
There will be more break times on other days.
