

We are going by train

We go to the station and get our ticket.

I can look at the map and count the stops to ours.

Knowing how many stops are left helps me stay calm.

We wait on the platform, behind the line.

I can stay next to the grown-up I came with.

The train arrives, stops and the doors open.

We get on and look for a seat.
I can sit down or hold on tight if we are standing.
Sometimes it is full and we stand for a while.

The train is noisy and it moves about.

I can put on my ear defenders or look out of the window.

The noise is just the train; it does not mean anything is wrong.

When our stop comes, we get off.
I can say something if I miss my stop.

If we miss it, we get off at the next one and come back.

We are going by train
